Safety Matters—The Peace River Regional District in Alberta encounters harsh winter conditions characterized by heavy snowfall and icy weather. To effectively address road safety and maintenance throughout the winter season, there’s a need for proper storage of salt and sand. After considering various options, the Regional District opted for a MegaDome structure due to its numerous advantages and competitive bid. The large, clear-span design enables the storage of significant quantities of salt and sand, ensuring a continuous supply during prolonged winter periods. Additionally, MegaDome’s efficient use of space and easy access streamline loading and distribution processes, allowing for quick responses to changing weather conditions.
